The dedication of a yearbook is very difficult when so many people are deserving of the honor. We feel that one faculty member in particular stands out among the rest as being one who has devoted much of his life to the field of education. A member of New Freedom High School's graduating class of 1930, this man continued his education and received his B.S. from Millersville State College.

He taught in Shrewsbury Township for eight years, Glen Rock Borough for two years, then Dallastown for two more years before he left teaching to become a full time farmer. Later in 1966, he resumed his teaching role at Kennard-Dale where he has remained.

Not only is he active in education, but he is also involved in many community organizations. Chairman of Hopewell Township Zoning Board and Treasurer of York County Board Park Recreation are some of the offices he holds. He is also an active member in People to People and White Rose Squares.

Since his arrival, this man has never missed a play performed at Kennard-Dale. He has chaperoned many dances and has attended a majority of sports and non-sports activities. In addition to his involvement in extra-curricular activities, he has served as yearbook advisor for the past nine years.

For these reasons and many others, the 1976 Fawn Staff is proud to dedicate our book to the man who has contributed so much to Kennard-Dale, Mr. Carroll F. Hunt.

ADMINISTRATION

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Elmer Warner—Administrative Assistant

Dr. Luther B. Sowers -Superintendent

As Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent, Mr. Elmer Warner is responsible for federal programs, the special education program, and serves on the Special Education Advisory Board as some of his various duties. Dr. Luther B. Sowers oversees various decisions throughout South Eastern School District and makes suggestions to the School Board. Mr. Idris Dunlap as Business Manager handles transportation routes for students and organizes school lunch programs.

Earning the distinction of being first principal of Kennard-Dale Senior High School, Mr. Nicholas Corbo has capably demonstrated his abilities as administrator. Born in Altoona, Pennsylvania and a graduate of Bishop and Guilfoyle High School, Mr. Corbo continued his education at Millersville State College. A Bachelor of Arts degree in Chemistry was followed by a Master of Education Degree in Physical Science. He later received a CASC in Secondary School administration from John Hopkins University. Mr. Corbo's first job in education began at Edgar Fahs Smith Junior High School teaching Physical Sciences. Part-time administrative assistant, football coach, and instructor of Chemistry and Physical Science were positions he fulfilled at York Catholic. Immediately prior to becoming Principal at Kennard-Dale, Mr. Corbo served as Assistant Principal at Eastern High School. With his coming, Mr. Corbo has brought many changes to Kennard-Dale, such as applying firm policies in the area of discipline. One of the most outstanding characteristics that distinguishes him as a good administrator is the individual treatment of students and his lack of categorizing all students as a whole.

Other than their usual functions, South Eastern School Board has concluded construction of the Middle School, besides adapting to two new government policies, The Student Bill of Rights and the Right to Education.

Mr. Corbo reads Kennard-Dale's best seller of 1975.

Mr. Charles W. Reid, Kennard-Dale's present vice-principal, has held this job for the past four years. Before becoming vice-principal, he taught chemistry and physics and some general science when it was required of him. Mr. Reid has been affiliated with Kennard-Dale for eighteen years. Though he misses the opportunity to teach chemistry and physics, Mr. Reid likes his present job because of the cooperation he receives from parents and students which makes his job so much easier.

The cooks, maintenance people, and the bus drivers are a vital part of Kennard-Dale's daily activities. The cooks provide us with nourishing meals, which they go to great lengths to prepare. The maintenance people see to it, that we at Kennard-Dale work in safe and healthy facilities. A great responsibility is placed on the bus drivers, who transport students to and from school and various sports activities. All of these people are essential to the life-style at Kennard-Dale.

PROM AND COMMENCEMENT

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

The 1975 Prom was held at the Holiday Inn in York. It was sponsored by the Junior class of '76, May tenth, 1975. Some of the Seniors refused to go, because they preferred to have it held in the school gymnasium. Nevertheless, the Juniors felt that offering a dinner and dance was a nice change from the strictly-dance Proms held in the past. Those who did attend, had a very enjoyable evening.

On the night of June 5, 1975, Commencement was held by candlelight. As dramatic as this may seem, it was not pre-arranged to happen that way. Due to the weather conditions, the commencement services were held indoors. The services were progressing smoothly when the raging thunderstorm caused a total blackout. Emergency lights were put into effect, and the ceremony was successfully completed.

For the first time in the history of Kennard-Dale, a team for boys and for girls competed in the 1975 track season. Mr. Morgan Butcher and Mr. Bruce Christman coached the teams and were pleased with the success of the girls' first year. With a girls team of only six members, they competed against teams having two and three times as many participants and still came out on top. The boys had a longer season than the girls with more meets, but were not as successful.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM NEVER LOSES

The girls' volleyball team opened its 1975 season on March 18th with an away game against Spring Grove. Unfortunately, this first loss was followed by many others. Although it was not a successful season, the team showed great spirit and never quit trying. The girls competed in a York County tournament at York High. They also sponsored an "Alumni Play-day," which was attended by many of the girls who had participated on K.D.'s volleyball team in the past. Many of the girls who planned to play on the '76 team attended camp to learn new skills, and hope this will contribute to a successful 1976 season.

The season got off to a slow start for the Kennard-Dale Rams. They played half the season without four varsity starters due to injuries and sickness. At the halfway point of the season, the Rams scored their first victory and started on the upswing. The team played their best game against Rising Sun. As their head coach, Jeffrey Hersey described the play, the defense bent but did not break. Going into the fourth quarter, Kennard-Dale led in scoring 22-8. The Ram defense allowed two touchdowns in the last quarter of the game, but by blocking the extra point attempts, prevented a tie. Next year the Kennard-Dale Rams will compete in the YCIAA league. This move will increase the level of competition and hopefully will develop a better quality of football at K-D.

HOCKEY

Mrs. Platt and varsity squad discuss game strategy

The Kennard-Dale hockey team with Mrs. Donna Platt as coach, joined the York County league this year for the first time and played a full thirteen game schedule. The team played very well for their debut in the league. The season record was only 2-9-2 but many of the games were very close.

Conflicts among team members hurt their play early in the season but the weeks of practice showed in their final and possibly most well-played game of the year when having let Suburban score early in the second half, the girls came back to win the game two to one. An end-of-season party was held in the locker room after the last game, and everyone was given an unwanted trip to the showers, including Coach Platt.

NINTH GRADE BASKETBALL

Joey Gibbs maneuvers the ball into shooting range.

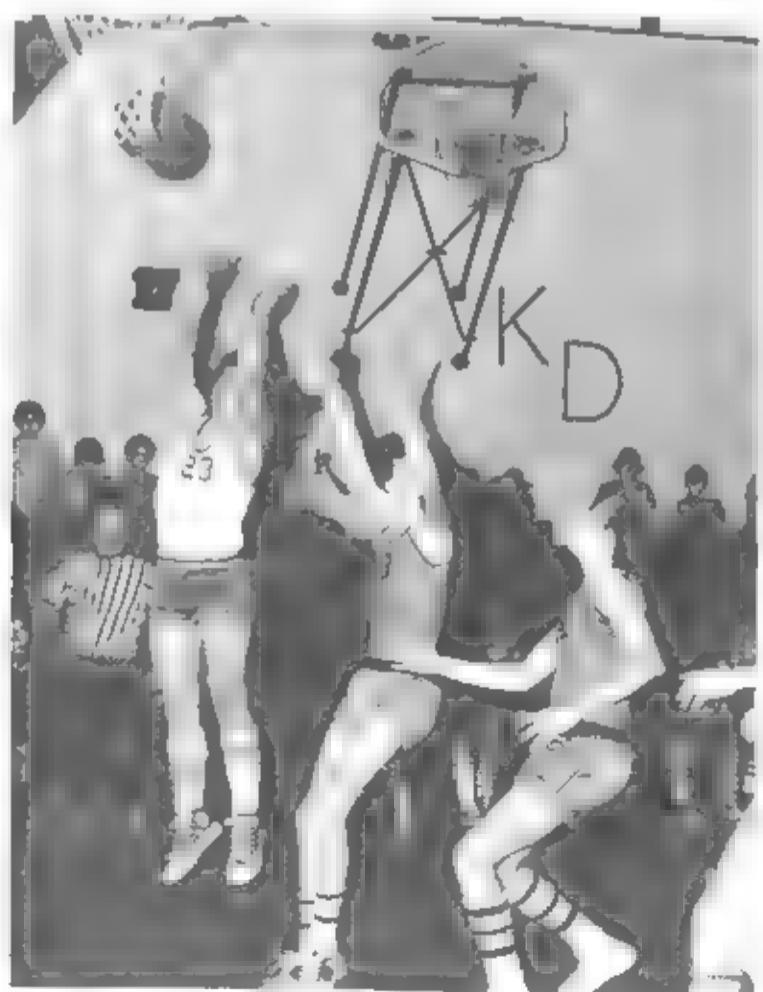

Defense was a strong factor in the ninth grade boys' basketball team strategy. Co-captains Todd Shenk and Bill Butler, the big men on the team, led the offensive game. Todd finished the season with a 16.7 points per game average, while Bill trailed close behind with 12 points per game. Coach Zimmerman predicts that though the ninth graders will not be next year's Junior Varsity starting line-up, some of his boys will be vital players on the team.

Girls' basketball was reinstated into the York County Inter-scholastic program for the first time in almost twenty years. Kennard-Dale girls competed in the newly formed league under the coaching of Mrs. Donna Platt. Improvement in team play was very evident as the season progressed. With a year's learning experience behind them, the girls will be a respected team in the league in years to come.

Consistent scoring of all players and the ability to rebound well were prominent factors of the 1976 Varsity Basketball team. They played a stronger offensive game but their zone defense prevented much scoring. Players displayed all their basketball skills against Dover. Scores often leave out much of the story. Though the Rams lost most of their games they often controlled the game for one of the halves.

KENNARD-DALE CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders are Kennard-Dale's number one moral boosters. They cheered at the football games and the basketball games. The ninth grade squad supported the Hockey team's spirit. This year a male faculty member, Mr. Sterling Ecker, acted as advisor to the enthusiastic group of girls. Although he is no longer a young man, he still kept up with the young chicks.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYERS

As running back for the Kennard-Dale Rams, Jim Preston consistently rushed for good gains to become Most Valuable Player.

Rick Heyn, baseball's Most Valuable Player, was second on the Ram's team in batting and played his position well in the outfield.

Chalking up valuable points throughout the 1975 season and playing defense with skill were reasons that Mark Hall received Most Valuable Player for basketball.

Dee Herbert, as forward, consistently scored points and played a tight defense to become Most Valuable Player for the girls' 1975 basketball season.

Diving and struggling to return each ball earned for Cindy Knight the honor of Most Valuable Player for volleyball.

A strong arm in shot put and discus brought Donnie Peck Most Valuable Player for track.

Mary Ann Stewart's determination and agility made her the most likely candidate for hockey's Most Valuable Player.

Future Business Leaders of America is a club for people who plan to enter a business field. Club members participated in state and regional competition. For the first time, FBLA initiated new members who paraded around school in dresses and with brightly painted red cheeks. Tags proclaiming "I'm a new member," identified them to former members who would stop them and ask for a recitation of the Club pledge.

Diane Lloyd, Dawn Kinard, and Mr. John Fulton, club advisor, represented Kennard-Dale at an opening convention in Pittsburgh. Later a selected group of FBLA members attended a state convention at Host Farms. A Spring banquet, ice skating, roller skating, and bowling were just a few of the activities during the year.

Future Farmers of America offers various activities for anyone interested in agriculture. The largest and probably most active organization in the school, FFA is also the most successful group, bringing back more trophies and awards than any other club. Various members participate in the York Fair showing and judging, the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition, various levels of Parliamentary Procedures Competition, County Sports Meets, and countless other similar activities. Julie Lanius, FFA sweetheart, was chosen County FFA sweetheart. The size of the club necessitated breaking it into two groups, and most of the business work is prepared in committees then presented at meetings. The advisors, Mr. Charles Wright and Mr. Ralph Travis, are proud of all their group has accomplished.

The main objective of Kennard-Dale's Industrial Arts Society of America is to prepare students for a trade in industrial arts. Two new faculty members, Mr. Dennis Kunkle and Mr. William Zimmerman, acted as IASA advisors. Knowing nothing of previous activities and having little information to work with, the advisors had to start from scratch to reorganize the group. Some problems limited their activities, however initiation was held and a field trip was planned for the Spring.

Fawn Staff is a group of Seniors chosen to record the history of Kennard-Dale throughout their senior year. Selected in their junior year, these unknowing people accepted the honor without realizing the hard work to come. Two summer sessions held at the home of their advisor, Mr. Carroll Hunt, began the tedious job of organizing a yearbook.

Sixteen girls find it difficult to agree unanimously on anything and the 1976 Fawn Staff is no exception, as they disagreed on everything from theme to the medallion on the book cover. Things became hectic as the entire Staff struggled to meet rapidly advancing deadlines.

Heading this crew of energetic females were the competent editors, Julie Lanius and Bonnie Sechrist. Before Cindy Eaton and Cindy Sadler could begin page designs, the photographers, Lesa Boyer and Brenda Harvey had to capture the spirit of Kennard-Dale in pictures. While pages were being designed, Mary Ann Stewart and Jackie Windon accumulated information and wrote copy. Cindy Keesey and Deb Windle were responsible for deciphering and typing copy written by the Staff.

Ads are an important part of financing a yearbook. Ginger Wolf and Dawn Kinard, were in charge of collecting and designing ads and successfully exceeded past totals. Throughout the year Pearl Buckler organized the files and helped some of the others. Besides compiling the index, Kim Colvin acted as secretary and treasurer. Deb Cox and Wendy Lewis handled the circulation and sales of the yearbook with expertise. The 1976 Yearbook is the result of the combined efforts of all these people and their advisor, Mr. Hunt.

Junior and Senior business students contribute time to preparing tests, letters, programs, and performing many other typing, duplicating, filing, and clerical chores for school activities. Work is also done for area residents, businesses, civic, and church organizations, at small costs for supplies. Some students become secretaries to individual teachers in addition to performing general office chores throughout the school.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB

The purpose of the Medical Careers Club is to make students aware of the career opportunities throughout the community. Speakers were invited to the school to tell the club members more about the various fields of medicine. The 1975-76 Medical Careers Club organized many service projects, such as making tray favors for Memorial Osteopathic. The club wound up its main activities by taking a tour of York Hospital during the Spring.

TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS

This year for the first time, the Juniors of the class of '76 presented two, one-act plays. A serious drama, The Monkey's Paw was directed by Mr. Henry Paul. I'll Love You Forever Tomorrow was a spirited comedy directed by Mr. Benjamin Emenheiser. The audience enjoyed both plays, but only the stage crew, directors, and performers realized all the work and enjoyment that went into presenting the plays. Backstage the props people held doors shut during both performances and worried about pictures falling off the walls. They had a struggle when they tried to move the fireplace out of the scene between plays. During the performance for the Junior High, a simulated black-out didn't go exactly as planned. All lights went out except one small lamp which blazed on, as did the actors.

Actress and director clashed on the issue of costumes as Mr. Emenheiser tried to persuade Ginger to wear a sexy nightgown while Ginger held out for a long flannel one, and perhaps even a robe.

Though the play was cancelled March 14th because of snow, a sufficient audience assembled for the rescheduled March 27th performance. In fact, it was one of the largest audiences for a Junior Class Play in years.

It Happens Every Summer was the play chosen to be performed by the Senior class of 1976. The play was staged Friday and Saturday nights, November 14th and 15th. The cast presented a preview for the student body, to entice them into coming to see the entire production.

The director, Mr. Benjamin Emenheiser devoted many hours of his time to get the lively cast into shape for the production.

There is more to putting on a play than just reciting lines on stage. Being loud enough to be heard, choosing the proper props, and scheduling rehearsals around other activities played a big role in the preparation of the Senior Play.

The premier event sponsored by Varsity Club was a heated contest between the WSBA Double Dribblers and younger members of Kennard-Dale's male faculty. A two point victory was awarded to the WSBA team. Varsity boys challenged the girls to a street hockey game which ended in a tie. The big event of the year was a match between the Colts football team and local athletes in a basketball game in March.

The library assistants found the new system to be much more effective. Besides performing various library duties, club members sponsored bake sales and a Christmas luncheon, both of which were enjoyed by students and teachers alike. Student Council is the main channel of communication between students and administration. The 1975-76 advisor, Mr. Dale Dinsmore, began his first year as Student Council advisor with a hard-working group of enthusiasts.

Homecoming was the first major event they tackled, which turned out to be a great success. Each year the Student Council presents films to the student body, which are outside their interest. The "Three Stooges" film, presented before Thanksgiving, proved to be just the opposite. The reaction from the students and teachers expressed their whole-hearted approval. The Winter Carnival united all the school clubs in one big project. January twelfth marked the third appearance of the Lebanon Valley Jazz Band at Kennard-Dale. Student Council proved to be successful in all its endeavors.

The band arrived on Monday, January 12 to perform an assembly last period in behalf of the student body. The assembly was thoroughly enjoyed by both students and faculty. Everyone found themselves stamping their feet to the beat of a truly sensational band. The band provided a concert Monday evening for parents, chaperones, and everyone who has an ear for good music.

The theme, "Rams Come Alive in '75", prevailed over the 1975 Homecoming festivities. A pep rally ignited the events and the students' enthusiasm for a victory over their Homecoming opponent, York Catholic.

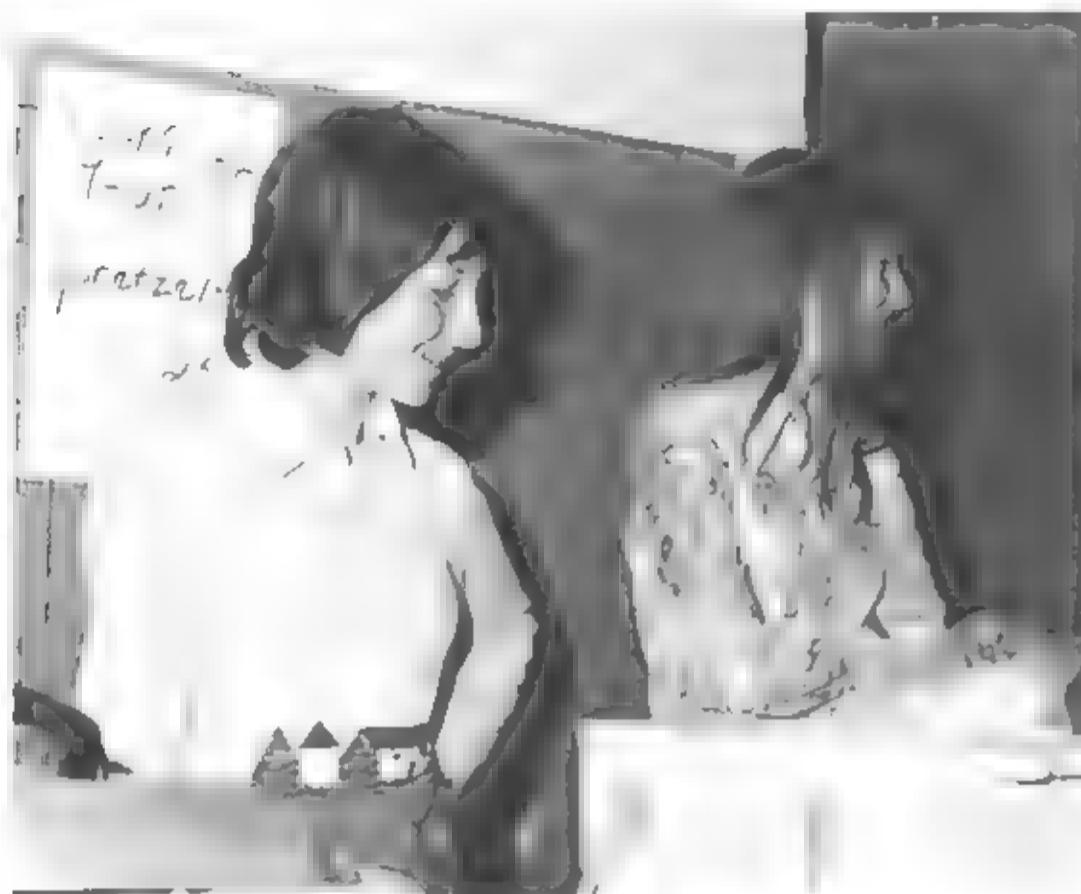

A prescheduled bon fire and parade were cancelled because of bad weather. The sun appearing at the start of the game brightened the team's hope for victory. A large crowd of K-D alumni and students showed up to cheer for the team.

Though the game ended in a victory for York Catholic, the spirit of the weekend continued to the dance that evening. Entertainment by "Mr. Natural" ended the Homecoming weekend with a good time had by all.

In addition to chorus and orchestra, Mr. Gingrich also directs several special groups. These groups perform at concerts and special events throughout the year and sometimes during the summer. Community events included singing for Senior Citizen groups in Delta and Stewartstown, and at different churches during the summer.

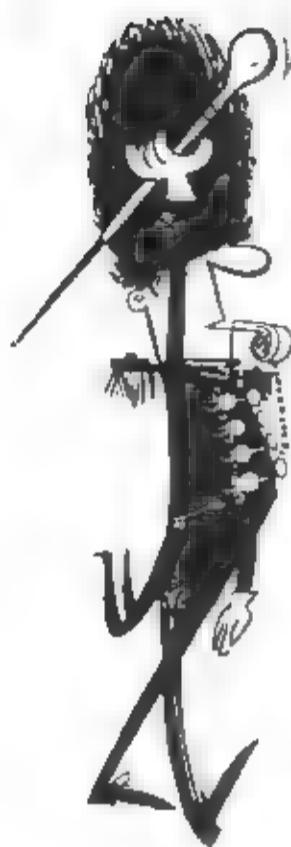

Students who show an interest are encouraged to participate in special musical organizations. Some of these groups are arranged by the students themselves, while others are started by Mr. Gingrich. Most rehearsals held after school were student directed with suggestions from Mr. Gingrich.

These small groups showed a tremendous amount of spirit and willingness to work as they strived to improve their musical abilities.

SENIORS

Looking back on our past six years at Kennard-Dale brings many happy memories for the class of '76. We started seventh grade as scared little kids pushed around by the upperclassmen. Many of us were always late for classes because we could never find the rooms.

As eighth graders, we felt superior to the seventh graders because we knew our way around the school. Our first dance featured Underground Haze. We explored the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia as our first class trip.

K.D. began to take on a new meaning for us in ninth grade. After much deliberation, we chose our courses, in preparation for the future. We tramped over the snowy fields of Gettysburg and surrounding landmarks on our class trip that year.

As tenth grade rolled around, we eagerly joined the various organizations K.D. had to offer. We sponsored a dance featuring Jerkwater, and ordered the traditional class pins.

It was decision making time in our junior year. Many of us were thinking about college and our future plans. The junior class presented two sensational one-act plays, entitled "The Monkey's Paw" and "I'll Love You Forever Tomorrow." We received our class rings at the beginning of the year and chose red, white, and blue as our class colors. The white rose was selected as our class flower. The prom, "We've Only Just Begun," was held at the Holiday Inn with a sit-down dinner.

Our senior year was the most significant of all years at K.D. We had finally reached the top. We presented our senior class play, "It Happens Every Summer," as our first major project. In order to raise money for our class trip, we had two candy projects; both were successful. The class officers decided on the design of our graduation announcements and the senior class selected the colors and ordered the caps and gowns for graduation.

Even though we are leaving K.D., the years we spent here will be implanted in our minds forever. Our class motto sums up clearly, the way we feel about the future, "We have not yet reached our dreams and destinations, but reality is all around us."

SENIOR CLASS PROJECTS

Recent tradition has been that Seniors take an overnight trip to the Poconos. The Class of '76 wished to uphold this tradition and began to raise money through class projects. Almost a hundred Seniors paraded about school for six weeks carrying boxes of Super Crunch bars and M & M's plain and peanut. Kennard-Dale students and teachers were constantly being pestered to buy these goodies.

At the annual Frosty Carnival, Seniors operated a junk shop and a bake sale. The final project of the year was a chicken bar-b-que in the spring.

Governor of Connecticut. BOTTOM ROW Addie Wyatt, vice-president of the new Coalition of Labor Union Women; Susan Brownmiller, feminist author and researcher; Carol Sutton, first woman to be named to the top editorial job on a big American daily; Kathleen Bverly, first woman ever promoted to serve as flag secretary, an aide to an Admiral.

MIDDLE SCHOOL RELIEVES CROWDED CONDITIONS

The Middle School is a controversial subject. Many elementary school children who are spending their first year at the school miss recesses, but others like having many different teachers and getting to change classes. Most eighth graders who spent a year at Kennard-Dale believe they have been exiled to a place where they are treated as children. Middle School teachers prefer the student division that did not exist in the elementary schools. Many teachers feel the age grouping that the Middle School provides is better for the students. Majority opinion at Kennard-Dale is that the South Eastern Middle School is a wonderful institution which provides a place for the hundreds of tiny kids who once crowded their halls and tangled themselves under everyone's feet.

At MAPLE LAWN FARMS, New Park, we grow gorgeous peaches you can fondle before picking and bright red and yellow apples you can grapple from the trees. Watch our ads from July through October and join in the joyous harvest.

Mom and Dad really appreciate your patronage, because brother and I just eat up all the profits.
